Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-8 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claim 1, Achim (US 6,683,576) discloses an antenna having first and second resonant printed wire structures; first and second printed wires on a printed circuit board, wherein the first resonant printed wire structure being connected to the first printed wire on the printed circuit board via a first junction point. Achim, however, fails to teach the specific configuration wherein the first and second resonant printed wire structures are connected to a first printed wire on a printed circuit board via a first junction point, and at least a third printed wire being provided on the printed circuit board as connections to the antenna.

Claims 2-5 are allowed for depending on claim 1.

Regarding claim 6, Achim discloses an antenna comprising a substrate that has first and second resonant printed wire structures; first and second printed wires on a printed circuit board, wherein the first resonant printed wire structure being connected to the first printed wire on the printed circuit board via a first junction point and the second resonant printed wire structure being connected to the second printed wire on the printed circuit board via a second junction point. Achim, however, fails to teach the specific configuration wherein the first and second resonant printed wire structures are connected to a first printed wire on the printed circuit board via a first junction point, and at least a third junction point via which a third printed wire on the printed circuit board is provided as connection to the antenna.

Claims 7 and 8 are allowed for depending on claim 6.
